WHAT YOU'LL NEED TODAY

- [ ] 1 candle (any colour you feel drawn to)
- [ ] Lighter or matches
- [ ] This workbook and something to write with
- [ ] Journal or paper
- [ ] Optional: a crystal, essential oil, or sacred object
- [ ] A quiet, safe space

"Candles remind us that light is not passive. Light reveals. Light warms. Light transforms."

MODULE 01

The Metaphysical Power of Fire

Transformation, alchemy, action, purification, illumination

Fire is one of the four classical elements - and it is the most active and transformative. Water feels. Earth grounds. Air moves thought. But fire changes things. Fire does not leave things the same.

"Fire does not leave things the same."

- MILA VELAZQUEZ

THE ELEMENT OF FIRE REPRESENTS

Transformation
What is dense begins to soften, move, and release

Purification
Burning away what no longer serves

Illumination
Making visible what was hidden

Rebirth
Destruction of the old, activation of the new

Power & Will
The force of action and spiritual activation

Spirit
The element closest to the divine spark

ENERGETIC USES OF FIRE IN SPIRITUAL PRACTICE

- Clearing stagnant energy from spaces and the auric field
- Prayer, devotion, and calling in divine support
- Manifestation and intention setting
- Protection work and boundary setting
- Ancestral connection and honouring those who have passed
- Grief and release - letting go of emotional weight
- Chakra work, meditation, and emotional healing

REFLECTION

Your Relationship with Fire

> When you think of fire, what comes up for you? Comfort? Fear? Power? Memory?

MODULE 02

What a Candle Really Does Energetically

The power is in the consciousness, not the wax

> "A candle is not magic by itself. The power is not in the wax alone - the power is in the consciousness, intention, energy, prayer, frequency, and the relationship between you and what you are calling in or releasing."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

A CANDLE ACTS AS

- Focus point for consciousness - directing your attention and awareness
- Carrier for intention - giving your prayer a physical form
- Symbolic offering - an act of devotion and sacred exchange
- Spiritual anchor - holding space for your energetic work
- Transformational portal - the flame as a bridge between worlds
- Visual mirror - reflecting movement, resistance, and energy in real time

WHEN YOU LIGHT WITH INTENTION, YOU ARE

DIRECTING FOCUS

Narrowing the mind to a single purpose, creating clarity from chaos

CREATING RITUAL SPACE

Signalling to your nervous system and spirit that sacred work has begun

ANCHORING THOUGHT INTO FORM

Moving intention from the mental realm into the physical world

MOVING SUBCONSCIOUS ENERGY

Using symbolic action to shift patterns beneath conscious awareness

REFLECTION

Your Intention Today

> What are you calling in? What are you releasing? What support do you need?

MODULE 03

The Scientific / Physical Side of Candles

Understanding what physically happens when a candle burns

> "Even physically, the candle is a perfect metaphor for transformation. The solid becomes liquid. The liquid becomes vapour. The vapour becomes flame. Spiritually, this mirrors what happens in healing: what is dense begins to soften, move, release, and transform."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

THE PHYSICAL PROCESS OF COMBUSTION

1. Flame melts wax
   Heat radiates from the flame, liquefying the solid wax around the wick
2. Liquid wax travels up the wick
   Capillary action draws the liquid fuel upward through the braided wick
3. Heat vaporises the wax
   The liquid wax at the top of the wick is converted to gas by intense heat
4. Vapour reacts with oxygen
   This combustion reaction creates heat and light - the visible flame

BASIC COMBUSTION FORMULA

Fuel + Heat + Oxygen = Heat + Light - Flames move due to convection, rising hot air creates the teardrop shape we recognise.

WHY FLAMES MOVE - HOLDING BOTH TRUTHS

PHYSICAL CAUSES

Air currents, drafts, uneven wick, impurities in the wax, moisture content, room temperature changes

METAPHYSICAL CAUSES

Energetic activity, emotional resistance, spirit communication, clearing in progress, energy shifting

> "Not every dancing flame means spirit is talking. Sometimes your AC vent is talking. We have to learn how to hold both truths: the physical world and the energetic world. Discernment is spiritual maturity."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

MODULE 04

How to Read Candle Flames

Symbolic language - not fear, not obsession, but noticing patterns

Key teaching point: Candle reading is symbolic language. It is not about fear, obsession, or rigid rules. It is about noticing patterns, energy, and intuitive messages.

FLAME INTERPRETATION REFERENCE CHART

FLAME BEHAVIOUR	METAPHYSICAL MEANING	MESSAGE	PHYSICAL CAUSE
Strong, steady	Aligned energy, clear intention, strong spiritual support	"The path is clear. Energy is stable."	Good wick, still air
Tall flame	Strong energy, heightened spiritual activity, amplified intention, emotional intensity	"This work is active."	Wick too long, excess fuel
Small or weak	Low momentum, fatigue, emotional heaviness, resistance, blocked intention	"Energy may need more clarity, support, or clearing."	Short wick, poor oxygen, wax drowning wick
Flickering / dancing	Energetic movement, spiritual communication, resistance shifting	"Something is moving."	Airflow, room movement
Popping / crackling	Emotional charge, energetic resistance, "something wants to be heard", tension releasing	"Listen."	Trapped moisture, debris, wick impurities
Goes out unexpectedly	Resistance, timing not aligned, energy needs reassessment, spiritual pause	"Pause. Reassess. Clear first."	Drowning wick, no oxygen, draft

Remember: A candle going out is not automatically a curse, attack, or doom. Sometimes it means pause. Sometimes it means clear first. Sometimes it means the work needs to be approached differently.

ACTIVITY

Flame Observation Practice

Light your candle now. Observe it for 2 minutes in silence. Record what you see.

WHAT IS THE FLAME DOING?

WHAT DO YOU FEEL WATCHING IT?

ANY INTUITIVE MESSAGES?

MODULE 05

The Wax, Drips, Soot & Shapes

Reading the residue - what the candle leaves behind

Wax represents emotional residue, energetic discharge, subconscious material, and how energy is being processed. What the candle leaves behind tells a story.

WAX BURN PATTERNS

Burns clean
Smooth energy flow, aligned intention, minimal resistance

Excessive dripping
Emotional overflow, unresolved heaviness, grief, release in progress

Heavy to the left
Receiving, feminine energy, subconscious, the past

Heavy to the right
Action, masculine energy, conscious mind, the future

Teach as symbolic, not dogma. Left/right interpretations are a framework for reflection, not absolute rules.

WAX SHAPE INTERPRETATION GUIDE

SHAPE	SYMBOLIC MEANING	QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF
Heart	Love, healing, heart chakra activation	Where is love expanding in my life?
Spiral	Cycle, evolution, energy in movement	What is cycling through right now?
Tears / drops	Grief, emotional release, letting go	What am I releasing?
Snake	Transformation, shedding old skin	What identity am I outgrowing?
Flower	Opening, heart expansion, new growth	Where am I blossoming?
Cross / X	Crossroads, ending, divine support	What decision am I facing?
Circle	Completion, protection, wholeness	What cycle is completing?
Mountain	Obstacle, strength building, endurance	What is this building in me?
Face / figure	Spirit symbolism, ancestral message	Who is trying to communicate?

> "Wax shapes are not always literal prophecy. They are often symbolic mirrors for the subconscious and energetic field."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

BLACK SOOT AND SMOKE

Metaphysical: Dense energy clearing, emotional heaviness, resistance, stagnant patterns releasing.
Physical: Wick too long, incomplete combustion, poor quality wax.

"Not every black mark is a spiritual war story. Sometimes the wick just needed trimming."

MODULE 06

Candle Colours, Frequency & Vibration

Three lenses: metaphysical, psychological, and the science of light

> "When we talk about colour frequency spiritually, we are also borrowing from the truth that colour is literally vibration in the visible spectrum. Colour absolutely affects human perception, emotional response, symbolism, and energetic intention."

COLOUR REFERENCE CHART

COLOUR	METAPHYSICAL PROPERTIES	USE FOR	ENERGETIC FEEL
White	Purity, peace, cleansing, divine connection, truth	Healing, blessings, angelic work, general spiritual support	Clear, high, pure, spacious
Black	Protection, banishing, shielding, boundaries, shadow work	Energetic clearing, cord cutting, release, boundary setting	Dense, grounding, protective
Red	Life force, vitality, courage, root chakra, survival	Motivation, grounding, empowerment, physical energy	Strong, activating, embodied
Orange	Creativity, pleasure, emotional flow, sacral chakra	Inspiration, confidence, emotional healing, creative work	Warm, flowing, expressive
Yellow	Clarity, intellect, focus, personal power, solar plexus	Decision-making, mental clarity, self-worth, learning	Bright, alert, mentally activating
Green	Healing, heart chakra, abundance, growth, renewal	Emotional healing, prosperity, physical healing, harmony	Balanced, restorative, nurturing
Pink	Love, self-love, compassion, gentleness, tenderness	Inner child work, heart healing, relationships, self-worth	Soft, loving, receptive
Blue	Peace, communication, truth, throat chakra, calm	Speaking truth, conflict resolution, prayer, anxiety support	Cooling, truthful, calming
Purple	Intuition, psychic awareness, crown/third eye, wisdom	Meditation, spiritual connection, intuitive development, dream work	Mystical, elevated, inward
Gold	Divine abundance, higher wisdom, solar power, success	Prosperity, divine alignment, confidence, manifestation	Radiant, expansive, empowered
Silver	Intuition, moon energy, feminine energy, reflection	Moon rituals, dream work, emotional healing, inner wisdom	Reflective, intuitive, receptive

ACTIVITY

Colour Intuition Check

WHAT COLOUR CANDLE DID YOU BRING TODAY?

WHY WERE YOU DRAWN TO THAT COLOUR?

AFTER READING THE CHART, WHAT DOES IT TELL YOU ABOUT WHERE YOU ARE RIGHT NOW?

MODULE 07

How to Choose the Right Candle

Intention first, then colour, then form

Choosing a candle is an intuitive act. Start with your intention, then let the colour and form follow. There is no wrong choice - only conscious choice.

1. Start with Intention
   Ask yourself: What am I calling in? What am I releasing? What support do I need? The answer to this shapes everything else.

2. Match the Colour
   Use the colour reference chart (Module 6) to match your intention to a colour frequency. Trust what you are drawn to - your intuition often knows before your mind does.

3. Choose the Candle Shape/Type
   Match the form to the ritual type and duration. Short work uses short candles. Long-term intentions need sustained burn times. See Module 8 for types.

GUIDED EXERCISE

Candle Selection Worksheet

Use this worksheet to intentionally choose your candle for any ritual or energetic work.

WHAT IS MY CURRENT INTENTION OR NEED?

AM I CALLING SOMETHING IN, OR RELEASING SOMETHING?

WHAT COLOUR AM I DRAWN TO? (TRUST YOUR FIRST INSTINCT)

WHAT DOES THE COLOUR CHART SAY ABOUT THAT COLOUR?

HOW LONG DO I WANT THIS WORK TO LAST? (QUICK FOCUS / SUSTAINED / ONGOING)

WHICH CANDLE TYPE MATCHES? (TEA LIGHT, CHIME, PILLAR, JAR, FIGURE)

If you only have a white candle, use a white candle. White holds all frequencies and can stand in for any colour. The intention is what matters most.

MODULE 08

Types of Candles & Their Metaphysical Use

The form helps shape the focus of the work

> "The candle form helps shape the focus of the work. The more specific the symbolism, the more directed the subconscious and energetic field become."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

CANDLE TYPE	METAPHYSICAL USE	BEST FOR
Tea lights	Simple intention work, daily prayer, quick energetic focus	Short daily rituals, meditations, setting the tone for a space
Chime candles	Focused rituals, specific intentions, chakra or spell work	20-30 minute targeted rituals, specific prayer, colour-coded work
Pillar candles	Long-term intentions, strong energetic anchoring, altar work	Sustained work over days/weeks, ongoing healing, altar centrepieces
Jar / novena candles	Prayer, devotional work, consistency, protection and healing	7-day devotional prayers, protection candles, grief work, ancestor altars
Figure candles	Symbolic work, relationship healing, ancestral and intention rituals	Specific person work, relationship healing, fertility, symbolic focus

REFLECTION

My Candle Practice

Which candle type resonates with you most? What kind of energetic work are you drawn to?

Think about your current life. What type of candle work would serve you right now?

MODULE 09

How to Prepare a Candle Energetically

Cleanse, program, anoint - imprinting consciousness into form

> "You are not just lighting wax. You are imprinting consciousness into form."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

1. Step 1 - Cleanse the candle
   Clear any residual energy from the candle before use. Methods include: prayer, breath, smoke cleansing (sage, palo santo), sound (singing bowl, clapping), intention, Reiki or energy work, or simply holding it in your hands and setting the intention to clear.

2. Step 2 - Program the candle
   Hold the candle in your hands. State clearly what the candle is for. Speak what you are releasing. Speak what you are calling in. Ask Spirit, God, Source, or your guides to support the work. This is where consciousness meets form.

3. Step 3 - Optional anointing
   Apply a small amount of oil to the candle with intention. Anoint top to bottom
   for release work (sending energy out). Anoint bottom to top
   for drawing in. Toward you = calling in. Away from you = releasing.

ANOINTING DIRECTION QUICK REFERENCE

Top to Bottom (away from you)
= Release, banish, let go, clear

Bottom to Top (toward you)
= Draw in, manifest, attract, heal

LIVE PRACTICE

Prepare Your Candle Now

Take your candle. Hold it. Follow the three steps. Write down what you said to your candle.

WHAT DID YOU CLEANSE WITH?

WHAT DID YOU PROGRAM YOUR CANDLE FOR?

IF ANOINTED, WHICH DIRECTION AND WHY?

MODULE 10

Simple Candle Ritual - Live Practice

Healing & Release Candle Ritual

WHAT YOU NEED

1 candle (prepared from Module 9), lighter or matches, paper or journal, optional crystal, optional oil, a quiet space

1. Ground yourself
   Take three slow, deep breaths. Place your hand on your heart. Feel your feet on the floor. Arrive fully in this moment.
2. Set your intention
   Ask yourself: What am I ready to release? What am I ready to call in? Write it below.
3. Speak your prayer
   "I ask that this candle support the release of all energy, emotion, thought patterns, beliefs, and attachments that are no longer in alignment with my highest good. I call in healing, clarity, peace, truth, and divine support."
4. Light consciously
   "As this flame burns, may all that no longer serves me be transmuted into light."
5. Sit with the flame
   Observe: feelings, emotions, thoughts, body sensations, and what the candle itself does.
6. Close with gratitude
   "Thank you for what has been revealed, cleared, and transformed."

MY RITUAL RECORD

Document Your Experience

WHAT I AM RELEASING

WHAT I AM CALLING IN

MY PRAYER (IN MY OWN WORDS)

WHAT I OBSERVED DURING THE RITUAL (FLAME, BODY, EMOTIONS, THOUGHTS)

MODULE 11

Spiritual Discernment

Tools support your healing - they don't replace it

> "A candle can support your healing, but it is not here to bypass your healing. Ritual should deepen your awareness - not replace your inner work."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

Candles are powerful tools. But they are tools. They are not replacements for the deeper work of healing, regulation, and self-responsibility. Part of spiritual maturity is knowing the difference.

CANDLES ARE NOT REPLACEMENTS FOR

Nervous System Regulation
Breathwork, somatic practices, and grounding your body

Trauma Healing
Professional support for deep wounds that need clinical care

Therapy
Ongoing emotional processing with a trained professional

Medical Care
Physical symptoms that require diagnosis and treatment

Emotional Responsibility
Doing your own inner work and taking ownership

Practical Action
The real-world steps that manifestation requires

Spiritual bypassing is using spiritual practices to avoid dealing with emotional pain, unresolved trauma, or practical responsibilities. A candle ritual before a difficult conversation is beautiful. A candle ritual instead of a difficult conversation is avoidance.

REFLECTION

Discernment Check-In

> Where in my life am I using spiritual practice to support my growth? Where might I be using it to avoid something?

MODULE 12

Fire Safety

We honour the element of fire by respecting it

> "We honour the element of fire by respecting it."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ

ESSENTIAL FIRE SAFETY RULES

- [ ] Never leave a candle unattended - this is non-negotiable, regardless of ritual
- [ ] Keep away from flammable materials - curtains, paper, loose fabric, pets, children
- [ ] Use a stable, heat-safe surface - ceramic plate, fire-safe tray, stone or tile
- [ ] Trim wick to 1/4 inch before use - reduces soot, prevents tall flames, cleaner burn
- [ ] Avoid heavy drafts - uneven burning, dripping, and fire hazard
- [ ] Don't burn too long - follow the candle manufacturer's recommended burn time
- [ ] Use discernment with herbs, oils, and dressings - dried herbs and oils are flammable; keep additions minimal and away from the wick
- [ ] Extinguish consciously and safely - use a snuffer or pinch; blowing can scatter hot wax or sparks

REMEMBER

Sacred practice and practical safety are not in conflict. You can honour the spiritual significance of fire and respect its physical power at the same time. That is the whole point of discernment.

> "Candles remind us that light is not passive. Light reveals. Light warms. Light transforms. When we work with candles consciously, we are entering into sacred relationship with intention, energy, symbolism, and Spirit. The candle is not just burning wax. It is showing us where energy is moving, where healing is happening, and where consciousness is ready to rise."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ, WORKSHOP CLOSING

MY CANDLE JOURNAL

Ritual Record & Flame Observations

Use these pages to document your ongoing candle practice

Each time you work with a candle, record your observations here. Over time, you will begin to recognise your own symbolic language - the patterns that are unique to you and your energy.

About Mila

Mila Velazquez

MSPT | CECP | 30+ Years Clinical Experience

I spent 30 years as a Physical Therapist watching patients carry pain that had no physical explanation. The imaging was clear. The tissue was fine. The mechanics were good. And yet - they hurt. That question led me to energy work, to the Emotion Code, and eventually to the deeper understanding that healing happens on every level - physical, emotional, energetic, and spiritual.

Fire has been part of human spiritual practice since the beginning. I teach candle work because it is accessible, powerful, and deeply personal. You don't need expensive tools or years of training. You need a candle, an intention, and the willingness to show up.

> "The candle is not just burning wax. It is showing us where energy is moving, where healing is happening, and where consciousness is ready to rise."
> - MILA VELAZQUEZ, MSPT, CECP

My approach is direct, warm, and grounded in real anatomy and real emotional experience. I own the woo - but I also own 30 years of watching bodies heal, and I know what's possible when we stop ignoring half the picture.
